'MIKE' TWOMEY CRITICAL AFTER STAIRWAY FALL

Raymond "Mike" Twomey, Baltimore street, was reported in a critical condition at the Warner hospital today following a fall down a stairway at his home Thursday evening in which he fractured his skull. He was admitted to the hospital in the ambulance.

John Wenschhof, Gettysburg R. 1, was admitted to the hospital this morning following a fall from a tree at the Mineral orchards, McKnightstown. He is suffering with a severe concussion and a nose injury.

Mrs. Mervin Bishop, Gettysburg R. D., and Mrs. Willis Bierly, Fairfield, have been admitted as patients. Those discharged were Mrs. Calvin Smith, Gettysburg R. D.; Mrs. Bertram H. Salter, Lincolnway east, and Miss Dorothy Lee Grimm, College avenue.

Lutheran Conference To Meet in Hanover

The West Pennsylvania conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran church of America will be held in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Hanover, of which Dr. John S. Tome is pastor, on Monday and Tuesday, November 13 and 14.

The Rev. Dwight F. Putman, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, is president of the conference.

B. AND P. CLUB HOLDS SUPPER; ADDS 4 MEMBERS

The November meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club was held in the Y. W. C. A. building on Thursday evening with a Puritan Supper at 6:15 o'clock. Thirty-seven persons were served by the special supper committee the members of which wore Puritan caps and kerchiefs and white aprons over black dresses.

Simplicity was the keynote of the room decoration with light being furnished by tallow candles in individual antique brass candle holders. Red and white gingham table mats were used and miniature Pilgrim hats served as place cards.

Included in the guests present was Miss Grace McGreggor, new secretary of the local "Y." Mrs. Guyon Buehler led the group singing, accompanied by Miss Esther Hartman at the piano.

At the business meeting that followed the supper Miss Nina Merrow and Mrs. Sue Cromwell served as pages. Miss Esther Tipton, club president, presided at the formal initiation of these four new members into the club: Mrs. Robert Cordor, Mrs. William Haley, Miss Elsie Robertson and Mrs. Jennings Collins.

The service committee reported that the club had contributed $3 to the Civic Nursing association and $3 to the Red Cross.

F.F.A. CHAPTER HOLDS BANQUET

The South Mountain chapter of the Future Farmers of America held a banquet in the Arendtsville vocational school auditorium at noon on Thursday. Forty-four members of the chapter and six teachers enjoyed a sauerkraut and wiener dinner served by the members of the home economics department of the school.

The principal speaker for the occasion was David Bushman, who described his experiences as a member of the state F.F.A. band that played at a livestock show in Kansas City recently.

Richard Lighter, of Gettysburg, county advisor of vocational agriculture education, also spoke. He described the development of the F.F.A. and explained its aims.

The members of the Arendtsville chapter decided to hold a banquet every two weeks. Mack Raffensperger, the chapter president, presided on Thursday.

Charles A. Smith is advisor of the Arendtsville chapter.

S. OF U. V. TO MEET

The Gettysburg camp of the Sons of United Veterans of the Civil war will hold a semi-monthly meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the East Middle street post room with Commander H. G. Deatrick presiding. Final arrangements for the observance of the seventy-sixth anniversary of the dedication of the National cemetery will be announced.

Rev. Bieber Accepts Bucks County Call

The Rev. Edmund E. Bieber, pastor for the last five years of the Lemasters Lutheran parish, has announced his resignation, effective November 15. He has accepted a call to the Springtown Lutheran parish, Bucks county, near Bethlehem.

The Rev. Mr. Bieber is a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1930 and graduated from the Lutheran Theological seminary here three years later. Mrs. Bieber is the former Miss Laura Krout, of Gettysburg. They have one child.

PEACE RALLY BY METHODISTS TO BE HELD NOV. 11

A peace rally will be held at the Eternal Light Peace memorial on the battlefield on Saturday morning, November 11, at 10:30 o'clock by the young people of the Methodist churches of the Harrisburg district.

The program is being sponsored by the social service department of the district youth council. Robert J. McCoskey, of Harrisburg, is the chairman.

A large attendance is expected. Automobile caravans are being organized from various points in the district.

The program at the memorial, which will be broadcast over a loud speaker system, follows:

A short worship service conducted by the Harrisburg district youth council; a fifteen-minute address by the Rev. Alton Motter, president of the Harrisburg Peace council, on the topic, "Christian Youth and the War Problem," and a dialogue, "The Unknown Soldier Speaks," written by John Haynes Holmes, and to be presented by Donald Johns and Milton Kinkelfelter, both of Wrightsville, York county.

Permission to hold the rally at the memorial was granted by the local National Military park office, James R. McConaghy, superintendent. Mr. McConaghy and his staff are helping the Methodist council make arrangements for the rally.

H. M. M'GUIGAN, FARMER, DIES

H. M. McGuigan, 71, a farmer in Straban township, died at his home at 3:30 o'clock this morning from complications. He had been ill about nine months.

Mr. McGuigan was the son of the late George A. and Amanda (Mills) McGuigan. He was a member of the Mt. Joy Lutheran church near Harney, Maryland.

Surviving are his wife, who was the former Miss Lillie A. Miller; two daughters, Mrs. Mark Stock, New Oxford, and Mrs. Annie Geisler, Gettysburg R. 4; six grandchildren, and one brother, Charles A. McGuigan, Gettysburg.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the J. W. Little and son funeral home in Littlestown, with the Rev. Paul B. Beard, the deceased's pastor, officiating. Interment in St. John's Lutheran cemetery near Littlestown.

Property Removed On Halloween Found

Borough police have recovered all gates, benches and baby carriages which were reported moved by Halloween celebrators on Wednesday evening — and have an extra gate and a tricycle left over.

The antique settee which disappeared from the front porch of Mrs. Edna Zane was found on the front porch of a neighbor, F. Mark Breem. A missing gate at the Luther Slentz property on East Middle street was back in place today and the baby carriage which was taken while Mrs. Samuel Knox, Steinwehr avenue, visited a friend on East Middle street on Wednesday evening was found near the new Twin Keys diner on York street.

Near the diner the police also located a garden gate and on East Middle street they found a tricycle. Police are seeking the owners.

CLINIC CHANGED

The Adams county tuberculosis clinic will be held Monday afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock at the Warner hospital instead of Tuesday because of election day it was announced today by Miss Mary Grove, state nurse for Adams county.

FACES CODE CHARGE

Albert W. L. Kennedy, Gettysburg R. 4, will be charged with parking in the Heidlersburg intersection and parking without lights in information to be filed before Justice of the Peace W. S. Houck, Heidlersburg, by a state motor policeman from the Gettysburg substation.

Named to Perfect the Neutrality Bill

After the house overwhelmingly passed the neutrality bill raising the United States embargo on arms shipments, these members of the house foreign affairs committee were named to meet with conferees from the senate to compose the differences between house and senate versions of the bill. Left to right are Representatives Charles Eaton (R-N.J.), Hamilton Fish (R-N.Y.), Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.), Luther Johnson (D-Texas) and John Kee (D-W.Va.). Bloom is chairman of the house foreign affairs committee and played a leading role in pushing the measure through the house.

Girls Reserve Recognition Service To Be Held Sunday

Approximately 50 girls will be received formally as members of the five local Girl Reserve clubs and as junior members of the Young Women's Christian association at the annual fall Girl Reserve recognition service to be conducted Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Gettysburg Presbyterian church. More than 100 girls will take part in the service.

Vice presidents of the four high school and the eighth grade Girl Reserve clubs planned and wrote the service which is based upon the theme of "Fellowship." Members of the seventh grade Forget-me-not club will serve as a choir for the ceremony. Mrs. Gilbert Reen will be the organist.

The guest speaker will be Miss Grace McGreggor, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. here. She will speak on the theme of the service. The girls will be received into junior membership in the Y. W. C. A. by Mrs. Lloyd C. Keefe, chairman of membership and former secretary to the board of directors of the "Y."

Speaking parts in the service will be taken by Emily Gotwald, Ida Mae Alexander, Jeanne Spangler and Anna Louise Jennings. The service will close with an impressive candlelight ceremony in which all of the girls will participate.

Parents and friends of the girls will attend. An invitation has been extended to the public to witness the annual service.

Lee-Meade Inn Will Remain Open for Winter

J. H. Chamberlain, operator of the Lee-Meade inn, Emmitsburg road, announced today that the inn would remain open for the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kahler will supervise the operation of the inn for Mr. Chamberlain this winter. Mrs. Kahler is Mr. Chamberlain's daughter. Mr. Kahler, who was employed until recently by the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., attended Gettysburg college several years ago.

Mr. Chamberlain is planning to leave Gettysburg for Lake Alfred, Florida, where he again will operate the Hotel Lake Alfred for the winter.

New Neutrality Program Moves Near Final Congressional Action

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—America's new neutrality program, lifting the arms embargo but narrowing the traditional "freedom of the seas" policy for United States shipping, required only last-minute formalities by congress today before becoming law.

A sweeping administration victory in the house rejected proposals for complete and partial embargoes by more than 60 votes and set the stage for quick final action and adjournment of the special session before the week ends.

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania's representatives cast a strict party line vote of 18 to 14 in favor of retaining the arms embargo.

The senate and house appointed conferees to work out a composite draft of neutrality legislation at a meeting. In view of the fact that both chambers gave sizable majorities for repeal, approval of the committee's draft was a foregone conclusion. The house, though, may withhold formal consent until Saturday.

As soon as President Roosevelt signs the bill, warring European nations can begin buying American munitions, guns and planes. Some administration quarters predict that foreign orders, chiefly from Great Britain and France, will total $1,000,000,000 within a few weeks.

Under the bill's "cash and carry" system, foreign governments must take title to the goods before they leave American docks, where many supplies are now piled. They must be transported in foreign ships, for a major purpose of the legislation is to avoid "incidents" by keeping American vessels and passengers out of war zones.

CHURCH SCHOOL OPENS ANNUAL SESSIONS HERE

With an enrollment of nearly 100 students, the Adams county leadership training school for church workers, which is sponsored each year by the county Council of Christian Education, opened a three-week course Thursday evening in the church school rooms of St. James Lutheran church.

The opening assembly was conducted by the Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville Lutheran pastor and president of the school's board of directors. Members of the faculty for this year were presented by Luther M. Lady, Biglerville, dean of the school.

Two-hour sessions will be held each Monday and Thursday evenings for the next three weeks, ending on Monday evening, November 20. Five courses are offered for credit but no registrations for credit will be accepted after next Monday evening.

During the devotional period between classes Thursday evening, Mrs. R. M. Dunkelberger, a missionary on furlough from India, gave a talk. At each succeeding school session missionaries on furlough will be the guest speakers. On Monday evening Dr. F. L. Coleman, Sachs apartments, missionary from India, will speak.

Speakers scheduled for later meetings will appear in this order: Mrs. J. E. Ensminger, Guernsey, a missionary to Africa; the Rev. and Mrs. J. Gordon Parker, Carlisle street, missionaries to Africa, and Wesley Sadler, a seminary student who traveled through South America last summer and who will take a missionary post upon graduation.

At the final school session on November 20 the annual election of four members of the board of directors will be conducted.

The courses being given this year and their instructors follow: "At-the-Church-Work of the Nursery Department" by Mrs. C. C. Culp; "Building and Administering an Intermediate Program" by Frederick Fritsch; "The Superintendent and His Work" by Dr. Ralph D. Heim; "The Prophets and Their Messages" by Herbert Allen and J. M. Myers, and a special course on Matthew's gospel by Dr. Harvey D. Hoover.

4-H MEMBERS TO BROADCAST ON SATURDAY

Fourteen members of 4-H clubs in Adams county will broadcast a 15-minute radio program from York on Saturday afternoon as a part of the National Achievement Day program during the Farm and Home hour from 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock. The first and last fifteen minutes of the hour will be occupied by broadcasts from Washington.

The senate and house appointed conferees to work out a composite draft of neutrality legislation at a meeting. In view of the fact that both chambers gave sizable majorities for repeal, approval of the committee's draft was a foregone conclusion. The house, though, may withhold formal consent until Saturday.

FATHER CORBY COUNCIL MAKES JUBILEE PLANS

The members of Father Corby council, No. 10, Pennsylvania Catholic Beneficial league, at their regular meeting in the Knights of Columbus auditorium Thursday evening, entertained the grand president of the league, Frank V. Kasel, of Columbia.

Mr. Kasel attended the Father Corby council meeting on both an official and fraternal visit, with the officers and members of the local council, and in the forum that followed discussions were held on subjects pertaining to present and future policies for the welfare of the organization throughout the diocese and state where councils are located, or in prospect of being established.

Preliminary reference was made of the twenty-fifth anniversary next May of the institution of Father Corby council, and a few of the council's outstanding accomplishments were reviewed. During the coming months definite plans will be perfected for the appropriate commemoration of the jubilee next May. Grand President Kasel was grand secretary of the league twenty-five years ago, and handled the grand office details for the institution of the local society.

Describing Father Corby council as one of the outstanding councils of the league, notable in particular for its resourcefulness of character and ability of its officers, Mr. Kasel urged the officers and members to a continuance of its determined firmness in moral and eternal values.

Charles F. Dillman, president of Father Corby council, presided, with the closing prayer being offered by Mr. Kasel. Following the meeting refreshments were served.

Arendtsville Staff Joins R.C. 100 Per Cent

Teachers at the Arendtsville vocational high school were the first to report to the county superintendent's office here their 100 per cent enrollment as members of the Adams county chapter of the Red Cross.

Recently the roll call chairman, Judge W. C. Sheely, addressed letters to all public school teachers in the county in an appeal for 100 per cent enrollment in connection with the 1939 roll call which opens formally on Armistice Day.

In their response, received Thursday afternoon, the Arendtsville teachers expressed their interest in the cause of the Red Cross and their willingness to join in the move to enroll 2,000 Adams countyans as members this fall and gather $3,000.

County teachers will report their memberships through the office of Ira Y. Baker, county superintendent of schools. The Gettysburg teachers will enroll through the office of Superintendent Lloyd C. Keefe.

4 Adult Clothing Clubs Will Meet

Meetings of four adult clothing clubs in as many county communities will be held next week, according to a schedule announced today by Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension worker.

The first will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harry McDonnell, Greenmount. On Tuesday afternoon at the same hour the East Berlin club will meet at the home of Mrs. Carl Fitzkee.

On Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock Mrs. Earl Jacoby will be hostess to the Round Top club at her home and that evening at 7:30 o'clock, the York Springs group will meet with Mrs. L. M. Gardner.

Miss Adams stated she will be in her office in the court house each morning next week and on Friday afternoon.

No One Injured in Crash Near Greenmount

No one was injured when two cars collided about 8 o'clock Thursday evening on the Emmitsburg road a mile south of Greenmount, and neither car was badly damaged.

Cars operated by Milton Junior Panus, 19, York Springs R. 3, and Estel L. Krug, 27, Fourth street, Hanover, were traveling south with Panus in the lead. He is reported to have swerved to the left in preparation for a right turn onto a private drive. The cars collided as Krug started to pass Panus on the right.

The accident was investigated by Officer William I. Banzhaf, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police.

Countians to Learn How to Display Cattle

Members of the 4-H baby beef clubs in Adams county will have an opportunity to witness a demonstration of fitting their cattle for showing and how to handle them in the show ring next Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the farm of Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. D.

C. A. Burge, livestock extension specialist from Pennsylvania State college, will conduct the demonstration at which the club members will secure instructions of value for the final showing and sale of their cattle at a big baby beef round-up to be held on December 7 at Carlisle.

Dates for Three Concerts Listed

Officers of the Gettysburg Concert association announced today the dates for the three concerts that will be given in Brua chapel on the Gettysburg college campus this winter.

The dates and the artists who will appear on the programs follow:

November 16—Rose Bampton, soprano soloist of the Metropolitan Opera association.

February 14—Miss Mildred Dilling, internationally famed harpist.

March 14—The Ionian Singers, a male quartet of national repute.

COUNTY C. E. TO CONDUCT RALLY IN FAIRFIELD

Garnet Schwartz, who was engaged in educational mission work in Tientsin, China, for eleven years, will be the principal speaker at the annual missionary rally sponsored by the missionary department of the Adams County Christian Endeavor union to be held in the Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Schwartz, who is a native of Franklin county, has titled his missionary theme: "Life." Preceding the address by Mr. Schwartz, Robert Kerr, of Carlisle, will be featured in the devotional service by a vocal solo, "The Lord's Prayer."

Other special musical numbers will include an instrumental selection by the Fairfield society, and a male quartet from the Arendtsville society. A short talk by the county president, Dean Stover, of Littlestown, and a song service under the direction of the Rev. Emmert Colestock, pastor of the Fairfield Lutheran church, also will be included in the afternoon's program.

Prize Offered
A prize is being offered to the county society having the most members present at the rally. The award will be a missionary book.

In connection with the rally, the county publicity department will conduct an exhibit of publicity materials under the direction of Myrtle Riley, Littlestown, publicity superintendent. The exhibit will include signs, posters, badges, pins and other publicity material.

Sunday afternoon's event is under the leadership of Myrtle Raffensperger, Biglerville, assisted by Mildred Coshun, Gettysburg, and the Fairfield Union Christian Endeavor society.

The meeting is open to the public and members of church missionary societies are especially urged to attend.

REFORMEDS TO START SERVICES

Trinity Evangelical Reformed church will be the scene of special services all day on Sunday. The day will mark the 149th anniversary of the founding of the congregation.

The church will begin a celebration which will cover the entire year, closing with special emphasis in November, 1940, when the 150th year of the existence of the congregation will be observed.

At the regular church school session on Sunday the anniversary note will be sounded and plans have been made to care for the extra number attending. The anniversary service proper will be held at 10:45 a. m., when the Rev. Howard S. Fox will lead the congregation in some reminiscences of former days.

At vespers, 7 p. m., the day will be brought to a proper climax.

It is expected that many former members and friends will be present to make the day an outstanding one in the history of the congregation.

Miss Hazel Hess has prepared a musical program for the services.

OFFICERS AND 8 DIRECTORS ARE SELECTED FOR COLLEGE LEAGUE

Officers and eight new directors of the Woman's League of Gettysburg college were elected and installed this morning at the closing session of the twenty-eighth annual convention of the league.

Adopting a resolution submitted by a special committee, the league made its special aim during the coming year the gathering of 25,000 names at $1 each to be placed in the cornerstone of the proposed $200,000 chapel to be erected by the college in Stahley memorial income. All other additional league funds from other special sources will be applied to the chapel fund, the league decided.

Tentative plans call for groundbreaking exercises for the new chapel in connection with commencement exercises next June, while the sealing of the cornerstone may be one of the features of the league's twenty-ninth convention next November.

To Support S. C. A.

In another resolution the league directed that the interest from its endowment fund, which now amounts to $20,000, shall continue to be used to aid the college through the support of the Student Christian association work. The fund was started after the S.C.A. building was completed a number of years ago, but interest payments to the association's work had been suspended four years ago.

The total league membership was given at 2,580. There are 16 sub-leagues.

The league adopted the report submitted by the nominating committee comprising members of the Hanover branch of the league.

Mrs. Chester Simonton, Harrisburg, was re-elected president and these other officers were re-elected for one year: First vice president, Mrs. J. Wilbur Drawbaugh, Baltimore; second vice president, Mrs. Austin H. Fellenbaum, Lancaster, formerly of Gettysburg; statistical secretary, Mrs. C. H. Bristol, Germantown; corresponding secretary, Miss Lillian Dentinger, Harrisburg, and treasurer, Mrs. L. U. Zech, York.

New Recording Secretary
The only new officer on the staff is Mrs. P. N. Wentz, York, who succeeds Miss Grace Fuhrman, Baltimore, as recording secretary. Miss Fuhrman has served in that position for a number of years.

These directors were named for three-year terms: Mrs. Hugh E. Yost, Steelton; Mrs. Fred Dapp, Camp Hill; Mrs. M. C. Raup, Altoona; Mrs. Clara A. Venable, Chambersburg; Mrs. Page M. Schildnecht, Lancaster; Mrs. C. W. Baker, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Frank Shock, Waynesboro; and Mrs. Herbert Rinard, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. H. W. A. Hanson continues as an ex-officio member of the board. Mrs. Lester O. Johnson, Gettysburg, is the only local member of the board. She was elected in 1937.

Named League Historian

Mrs. C. F. Sanders, Mrs. Frank Kramer and Mrs. W. E. Tilberg, all of Gettysburg, were named to the literature committee. Mrs. Kramer also was appointed league historian.

Mrs. John F. Dapp, Harrisburg, is extension committee chairman and Mrs. Percy D. Hoover, Waynesboro, was named to head the finance committee. Mrs. Thomas L. Cline, Gettysburg, was appointed registrar.

Mrs. R. C. Sorrick, Baltimore, was placed in charge of Junior Leagues; Mrs. George W. Nicely, Johnstown, religious book shelf, and Mrs. Lester O. Johnson, Gettysburg, in charge of Wedgewood ware.

The Pittsburgh league was placed in charge of the program for the convention next year. The Philadelphia league will form the nominating committee.

Devotions this morning at 9 o'clock were conducted by Mrs. Ralph Gresh, York. Herbert W. Stroup, Jr., gave the report of the president of the Student Christian Association and Miss S. Frances Zimmerman reported as vice president of the association.

The installation of the new officers was conducted by Mrs. Frank E. Cremer, Hanover. The closing meditation was led by Mrs. William G. Bloomhower, Philadelphia.

CAR RECOVERED

State motor police here reported today that the automobile of Charles A. Kennedy, York Springs, which was stolen from York Springs, late last Saturday night, was recovered Thursday evening in Chambersburg. Keys which Kennedy had left in the car are missing and one fender of the machine is damaged.

MRS. IDA MUMPER ILL

The condition of Mrs. Ida Mumper, Baltimore street, was described as being serious this afternoon at the Warner hospital.

CITY OF FLINT ABOUT TO LEAVE NORWAY'S COAST

Bergen, Norway, Nov. 3 (AP)—Several British warships were observed off the Norwegian coast today, apparently watching the progress of the captive United States freighter City of Flint, and the danger was said to exist they might attempt to seize her.

The City of Flint passed the Bergen naval district at 9:30 a. m. (3:30 a. m., E.S.T.) today accompanied by the Norwegian minelayer Olav Trygvasson and two Norwegian destroyers.

Authoritative sources said a member of the City of Flint's American crew was sick and under treatment by a physician from the Olav Trygvasson. The seaman was not identified.

Observers here said it was possible British warships would attempt to take the City of Flint from her German captors a few hours after she leaves Haugesund, 75 miles south of here, when she cuts into the open sea across the entrance to Bukken fjord.

The freighter was expected to reach Haugesund at about 4 p. m. (10 a. m., E.S.T.), and belief was expressed that the sick seaman might be sent ashore there for further treatment.

The possibility also was considered that the City of Flint might have to leave the three-mile limit of Norwegian territorial waters south of Stavanger, farther down the coast from Haugesund and across the wide mouth of Bukken fjord, to avoid Jaederens reef.

British Slight Flint

London, Nov. 3 (AP)—The British admiralty tersely disclosed today that its warships were within sight of the American freighter City of Flint now slowly making her way in charge of a German prize crew to a German port.

In what some observers interpreted as an indication the British would seek to avoid entanglement in the controversy over the ship's seizure by keeping "hands off," the admiralty announcement said it was possible for the captured steamer to stay inside Scandinavian territorial waters until reaching the Baltic.

GUARDSMEN GET WINTER DUTY

Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania National Guardsmen were shopping for winter underwear today in preparation for their first experience—outside of war-time for the veterans—in extended, large-scale, cold-weather field training.

Adjutant General Edward Martin and the brigade and regimental commanders settled Thursday upon various dates and places for the extra week in the field ordered for approximately 11,000 Guardsmen. Established camp areas such as the Indiantown Gap and Tobyhanna reservations in Pennsylvania, and Fort Dix, in New Jersey, will be used where possible. Troops will sleep in permanent buildings. Some outfits will work from their home armories.

First to go into the field will be the 166th field artillery, of Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Lewistown, Waynesboro, Bellefonte and Du Bois. It will move to Indiantown Gap Saturday.

Harrisburg, Chambersburg and Carlisle troops of the 104th cavalry will be at Indiantown Gap during the week of November 19. Philadelphia units of the regiment will train near home at the same time.

The 103rd cavalry will assemble at Clearfield Sunday for seven consecutive days of training. Troops will march overland from their armories in Tyrone, Lewisburg, Sunbury, Lock Haven, Altoona, New Castle and Punksutawney.

The 103rd quartermaster regiment will transport units to their camps. Its units are located at Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Gettysburg, York, Pine Grove, Hamburg and Huntingdon.

ROUNDUP LOTTERY RING

Boston, Nov. 3 (AP)—In 40 cities, from Maine to Minnesota, federal agents began a roundup today of 71 men and three women indicted by a federal grand jury here last September as promoters and agents of an allegedly fraudulent $20,000,000 lottery racket. Among those listed for arrest was Abraham F. Zimmerman, of Chicago, national headquarters of the lottery syndicate, who has been named by United States Attorney Edmund J. Brandon as the "big shot" of the ring. Zimmerman earlier this year pleaded a conviction for evasion of income taxes on an income the government contended totalled $400,000 in a year.

HE WASN'T APPRECIATED

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Young Roy Fisher was taken aback when state game officials arrested him on a charge of hunting skunks out of season. He had captured ten skunks and put them in a pen near his home. Everything was straightened out, however, when Justice of the Peace A. Paul Kline ruled that the animals had been a nuisance and therefore could be caught and killed.

Harry Miller, Hotel Gettysburg, is spending the week-end with his son, Paul, a member of the junior class of Princeton, New Jersey.

Mrs. Thomas L. Cline and Miss Helen Cline, Carlisle street, were visitors in Harrisburg today.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Rauff-bart, Philadelphia, are visiting Mrs. Rauffbart's mother, Mrs. W. M. Stouck, Eberhart apartments.

Mrs. James Bristol, Germantown, and Mrs. John Dapp and Mrs. Chester Simonton, Harrisburg, were guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson while attending the convention of the Woman's league of Gettysburg college.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, West Lincoln avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Jones, Hanover, are spending the week-end at Princeton, New Jersey, where Richard Thomas is a member of the freshman class of Princeton university.

A special meeting of the St. James Lutheran Missionary society will be held Sunday afternoon at 5:45 in the main Sunday school room at the church. Paul Mumford and Wesley Sadler, students at the Lutheran Theological seminary, will show pictures of their trip taken this summer through the central American missions.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Mitchell, center square, will have as guests over the week-end their two sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. George Hill and daughter, Betty Jo, Easton, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Houghton, Olean, New York. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dahmond, Olean, who will attend the Homecoming activities at Gettysburg college, will also be guests of the Mitchells.

45 INDICTED BY FEDERAL JURY

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3 (AP)—A federal grand jury, investigating building costs in Pittsburgh, indicted 13 corporations and 45 individuals today on charges of conspiracy to defraud the federal government.

Acting United States Attorney George Mashank said the indictment charged "fraud on the government that may total $500,000."

The jury was recessed after the indictments were returned but Neil Andrews, special assistant to the United States Attorney General who has been in charge of the inquiry, asked Judge F. P. Schoonmaker to reconvene the jury at "the proper time."

The investigation, one of several in larger cities of the nation, began October 11. A survey by federal agencies showed building costs here were the second highest in the United States.

Records of several hundred contractors, unions and government subdivisions had been subpoenaed for the inquiry.

ADMITS EMBEZZLING

$12,000 FOR HER SON

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3 (AP)—While auditors for two state departments checked her tangled accounts, 35-year-old Mrs. Loretta Robson walked into the district attorney's office and admitted a $12,000 shortage while cashier for the state inheritance tax division in the county register of wills office.

Arraigned before Alderman Andrew M. Maloney on embezzlement charges, she was ordered held under $10,000 bond for further hearing Saturday. Maloney placed in the record a four-page statement in which the woman disclosed details of the shortage.

A wayward son, declared Mrs. Robson in her statement, got most of the money. She said he frequently ran away from home, became stranded and each time she sent him money to come back home. "I didn't spend any of it on myself," added the woman.

CUSTOMER WAS RIGHT

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Grocer Sam Sherman learned, to his distress, that the customer is always right. One told Sherman that his car, parked in front of the store, had been bashed by another automobile. "You can't fool me," the grocer chuckled. "Tonight's Halloween." The customer insisted that Sherman take a look. The customer was right.

"STRIP" CROPPING

West Milton, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Frank A. Grove did an impromptu strip act which nearly cost him more than his clothes. His shirt-tail caught in a farm combine machine and before he could free himself every bit of his raiment except shoes and socks had been torn off. He escaped injury.

FEMALE FARMERS

State College, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Women are invading the traditionally masculine occupation of agriculture, Pennsylvania State college reported today. Forty-two co-eds are enrolled in the college's school of agriculture and 10 others are taking advanced study in that field.

STOCK REPORT

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—A futile attempt to give the aircrafts another push brought quick profit selling into today's stock market and aviation favorites, as well as leaders elsewhere, fell fractions to two points.

APPLY FOR LICENSE

William Gregory Devine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Devine, McSherrystown, and Kathryn Roberts Zinn, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Zinn, Hanover, have applied for a marriage license.

'PROFESSOR JIM'

Hartford, Conn. (AP). — The memory of "Professor Jim" still lives at Trinity college three score years after the old negro riverer's death. Alumni have provided funds for a new stone to mark his grave. The old, weather-beaten tombstone said merely that James Williams was "for more than 40 years janitor of Trinity college." The new one, President Remsen B. Ogilby says, will commemorate "Professor Jim" as "faithful over a few things." "Professor Jim," nearly 90 when he died, virtually was a father confessor to the students of his day and the final undisputed authority on matters of Trinity tradition.

CHAMBERSBURG FIREMAN AND ASSAILANT DIE

A Chambersburg ambulance driver died Thursday night of a rifle wound within seven hours after his assailant succumbed to burns suffered while he was a prisoner.

The ambulance driver, Russell Kyle, who was also operator of the truck of the Goodwill fire company, Chambersburg, was shot in the leg Tuesday at the firehouse by Elmer Heller, 46, also of Chambersburg.

Heller died at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Harrisburg state hospital, where he was removed Wednesday night from the Chambersburg hospital. Dr. Howard E. Milliken, Dauphin county coroner, said death resulted from burns that covered three-fourths of his body.

Kyle died at the Chambersburg hospital, where surgeons amputated his wounded left leg to halt the spread of infection.

After wounding Kyle, Heller, who had previously threatened other persons and who gave no reason for shooting the ambulance driver, was taken by police to the Franklin county jail in Chambersburg.

Because his mental condition appeared to improve, Heller was allowed matches to light cigarettes. Early Wednesday, Bert Gerbig, a turnkey, found Heller lying in his flame-enveloped cot.

Gerbig pulled him from the bed and beat out the fire. Heller was not questioned about the fire because of his serious condition, and was taken to the Chambersburg hospital, where he was guarded by a deputy sheriff and two state policemen.

He was removed by ambulance Wednesday night to Harrisburg on order of the Franklin county court. Given a sedative before he left the Chambersburg hospital, Heller slept most of the time. Sheriff C. H. Gillan and two state policemen guarded him. Heller was a former driver for the Goodwill fire company.

committee, Miss Helen Conover told of what other clubs are doing and read a "Tribute to the Faithful Few."

Thirteen of the members are enrolled in the gym class which is held on Wednesday evenings in the "Y" under the direction of Miss Relda Green.

The week-end cabin party committee reported that 20 members attended that event over last week-end.

A nominating committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Ellen Buehler, Miss Katherine Plank and Miss Elizabeth Woods.

A change was announced in the date of the local club's observance of World Fellowship week from November 9 to November 16.

The program for the balance of the month includes the following:

A rummage sale on Saturday, November 4 on West Middle street with the following committee in charge: Miss Elizabeth Woods and Miss Janet Scott, chairmen; Miss Mary Yeagy, Miss Marion Reibold, Mrs. Ralph Oyler, Mrs. Thelma Ross and Miss Esther Hartman.

November 9—Box social and a "Do-as-You-Please Night" at 7:30 p. m.

November 16—World Fellowship observance.

November 19—(Sunday) Thanksgiving Hospitality Night at 8:15 p. m.

November 30—Committee Night.

December 7—Christmas carol sing and business meeting.

Pages appointed for December were Miss Lois Plack and Miss Ellen Spangler.

BUMPS FOR BERNICE

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3 (AP)—Somebody gets hurt every time 20-year-old Bernice Brubach goes to Avonworth high school football games and she's the one that's carried off the field. A sideline pleup of players shook her up badly two years ago. Her left leg was broken Monday when several gridders crashed into her.

WINDOW SHAVES?

York, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Were your windows soaped by Halloween pranksters? Shave them! It's the advice of John White, night watchman at the Pennsylvania Gas and Electric company plant. He says the soap can be removed easily with razor blades.

PLANE WOULDN'T FLY

Kansas City, Nov. 3 (AP)—Angered because it wouldn't fly, Richard Burns, 22, hauled his airplane to the Kaw river and tossed it in. Burns said he spent $400 for repairs on the plane in the past year, but never was able to get it off the ground.

UNWELCOME ATTENTION

Rochester, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—The American Legion post here got results when it sought to attract attention by displaying a baby doll dressed in 25 one-dollar bills in a store window. Someone tossed a brick through the window and made a "snatch."

Miss Ruth Beamer and Philip Beamer, Fable Rock, attended a concert given by the Trapp family choir at the Forum, Harrisburg, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Lanson Slaybaugh, Arendtsville, spent a day this week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. N. L. Minter, East Middle street.

Only routine business was transacted at the November meeting of the Biglerville fire company Thursday evening at the fire engine house.

Mrs. Ernest Wishard, Arendtsville, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Keefer, Miss Grace Cleaver and Robert Keefer, Fayetteville, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Keefer's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Keefer, Vienna, Virginia.

Mrs. Charles Smith entertained the members of the bridge club to which she belongs Thursday evening at her home in Arendtsville. Miss Miriam Thomas was an additional guest. High scores were held by Miss Mary Barry and Miss Thomas. The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. John Frederick.

CANAL ZONE PROBE ORDERED BY DIES

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—A complete investigation of union organization activities in the Panama Canal zone was ordered today by the Dies committee. Rhea Whitley, committee counsel, was instructed to make a thorough study of the subject after a witness, Frederick C. Phillips, former National Maritime union official, told the committee a man named H. A. Stouck, whom he identified as a communist, was an organizer for the C.I.O. union in the Canal Zone.

NOT THAT BIG

A hen laid a large egg, as reported in these columns on Thursday, but it was not six and one-half inches in "diameter" as the story said. The egg was, however, six and one-half inches in circumference and nine inches around the ends.

HOURS FOR MUSEUM

The traveling museum of United States stamps will be parked in center square here on Saturday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.

'PROMOTER' TO RETURN MONEY

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Morris Berman, of Philadelphia, is on five years' probation and has been fined $1,000 and costs and ordered him to return 255 acres of Warren county oil land to its original owners.

In addition, Judge Fred S. Reese ordered Berman Thursday to return $1,440 to two residents of Mechanicsburg, Karl E. Yuengel and Mrs. Estelle Thomas Steele, who had invested in the lands under Berman's "Warren Group No. 1" oil promotion plan.

Testimony was offered to show that 75 investors throughout the state had put a total of $236,000 in the venture.

Berman changed his plea from innocent to "no defense" on his counts of violating the state securities act, after two days' trial before Judge Reese without a jury.

The jurist said he was chiefly interested in salvaging for the investors whatever equity may remain in the property.

Two charges of conspiracy against A. L. Benton, Bradford engineer indicted jointly with Berman, were dropped after District Attorney J. Boyd Landis said there had been no conspiracy in Cumberland county.

HUSKERS MEET FOR U. S. TITLE

Lawrence, Kas., Nov. 3 (AP)—Agriculture presented its big sports event today, the national cornhusking contest with all the fanfare of a world series.

Champions and runnersup from 11 states took to the rows for 80 minutes of hard labor before a crowd of spectators expected to exceed 100,000.

Unique among sports events, it probably is the only national amateur contest in which all participants are professionals—all are farmers who husk corn for at least part of their livelihood.

First prize is $100. Most spectators were rural residents who were not at all strangers to the farm chore of cornhusking.

Rules specify each contestant shall husk corn from six rows, two rows at a time. Rows are approximately a quarter mile long. Each contestant is accompanied by gleaners, referees, umpires and guards. Their loads are weighed and deductions are made for huskings clinging to the ears and for corn left in the field. The championship is determined by the biggest net load.

None of the contestants ever won a national championship. All previous titleholders either failed to place in state contests or participated in unauthorized events.

Stanley Yeager, of York, Pennsylvania's champion joined others from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas.

Huckers were shooting at the record 41.5 bushels established in 1935 by Elmer Carlson, Iowa. Last year's winner was Ted Balko, Minnesota.

Weather was cool and crisp, ideal for the huskers but a trifle nipish for spectators.

SCHMELING WANTS TO FIGHT LOUIS AGAIN

Madrid, Nov. 3 (AP)—Max Schmeling wants another crack at heavyweight champion Joe Louis "when I can get it."

The big German said as much today when he arrived here by plane from Barcelona. He looked in top-notch condition and said he weighed 193 pounds, compared to his usual fighting weight of 190.

"I still think I can beat Louis," Schmeling added.

However, Max doesn't plan to go to the United States just now. He explained that he was here to look over the ground for a movie which his wife, Annie Ondra, plans to make in Spain.

OIL COMPANY STARTS

AD CAMPAIGN Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 3.—The largest advertising campaign in the history of the Sun Oil company was announced today by M. H. Leister, the company's sales and advertising director.

"Newspapers will be a mainstay of this campaign," explained Mr. Leister, "with more papers being used more frequently than ever before. This decision was made because we have a news story to tell and past experience has shown us that newspapers are one of the most effective means of reaching any predetermined market without delay. Incidentally, all of this advertising will be devoted to our new motor fuel which we have introduced as Nu-Blue Sunoco."

DOGS TRAPPED UNDERGROUND

West Chester, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—A rabbit dinner cost one beagle hound its life and nearly resulted in another dog death. After digging all day, a crew of hunters and West Chester water works employees broke open a 16-inch pipe ten feet underground and pulled out two beagles trapped there since they chased a rabbit 500 feet from the pipe's open end. One dog was dead and the other limp. The rabbit's carcass had been cleaned of meat.

Muhl-Bullet Tilt May Decide Conference Title

Perhaps no team which has invaded Gettysburg in several years is as certain of winning a game as the Muhlenberg football eleven which battles the Bullets here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in an important Eastern Pennsylvania intercollegiate conference game.

The latest dig at the Bullets comes from John Kauffman, tackle, who transferred to Muhlenberg after enrolling here in the freshman class several years ago. Kauffman has asked Coach Alvin Julian to allow him to captain the team on Saturday in order that he may receive the football as the winning captain.

Muhlenberg's supreme confidence in the outcome of the game is not without foundation. The Muhl players and fans point to their victory over Lafayette, a team which crushed the locals by six touchdowns. The only reverse received this season by Muhlenberg was a 14-0 setback at the hands of the strong Villanova eleven in the opening game of the season.

Co-Captains

In recognition of the fine consistent work all season of Fred Hamilton and Bob Flinchbaugh, Coach Bream will name his stars as co-captains on Saturday.

Injuries have forced the Bullet mentor to shake-up his lineup for the game. Freeze will be at one end position due to injuries to both Yovicin and Buhrman while Emanuel, sub tackle, will take over a guard position.

The Bullets will have their regular backfield in the starting lineup for the first time since the Albright game. Joe Stock will be back at his old halfback position pairing off with Hamilton. "Reds" Bender will call the signals with Howard Shoemaker rounding out the quartet as fullback.

May Decide Title

Muhlenberg is gunning for its first Eastern Pennsylvania conference title. Already the Muhls have downed Ursinus and Franklin and Marshall and have only to defeat the Bullets to assure themselves of the honors. On the other hand, a victory for the Bream-men will establish the Bullets as probable titlists.

For three straight years Muhlenberg has defeated Gettysburg and will have practically the same lineup on the field Saturday that handed the Orange and Blue gridders a 16-0 reverse last season.

With perfect football weather forecast for Saturday easily the largest crowd of the home season will be on hand. Many alumni have already returned for the Homecoming activities over the week-end while the intense rivalry between the teams is expected to draw many out-of-town spectators.

This evening a big pep rally is scheduled to be held in the Eddie Plank gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Probable starting lineups follow:

Pos.	Gettysburg	Muhlenberg
P.	Frederick	Wassukowich
E.	Abburn	Kauffman
L.T.	Emmanuel	Paul
L.G.	Stanley	DeRosa
C.G.	Glad	Eberly
R.T.	Hill	Munchak
R.E.	Flinchbaugh	Scott
Q.B.	A. Bender	Stamias
J.H.	Hamilton	Kuroski
R.H.	Stock	Franklin

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Nov. 3 (AP) — Scoop: National league higher ups say it must be some other N. L. that wants Senator Chandler of Kentucky for president. . . . When Pitt quit the Polo grounds last Saturday it left its first string center, Dick Fullerton, in a hospital here with a brain concussion. . . . Unconfirmed: Southern California has been scouting Tennessee for three weeks. . . . A deep cold has Lloyd (Little Poison) Waner under blankets in a Sarasota, Florida, hospital. . . . Clipper Smith of Villanova is the hot tip around Stanford and may be interviewed by envoys now flying east ostensibly to scout Dartmouth. Herb Kopf of Manhattan also in the running.

Election dope — Kiki Cuyler is running far ahead of the field in that newspaper poll for a new Cub manager. . . . Old Cholly Grimm is second and Rogers Hornsby, third. . . . Eighty per cent of the wimmen are voting the straight Hartnett ticket.

Tattle Tales: The Harvards will jump on this one, but Maryland's offer to Dick Harlow was plenty flat, included a security understanding, etc., and Harlow still may decide the climate down there is better for his health. . . . The $6,580 he got for being stopped by Al Davis was the biggest purse of Tony Canzoneri's 18-month comeback campaign. . . . Red hot debate in the Big Ten is Harmon vs. Kinnick with the college coaches voted for Harmon and the pros solid for Kinnick. . . . The medics want to operate on Whitlow Wyatt's trick knee, but won't proceed until Larry MacPhail gives them the green light.

Chicago fears Virginia so much, Coach Clark Shaughnessy announced a 12-man starting line-up. . . . Davey Day likely will be next for Al Davis, Canzoneri's conqueror. . . . Bob Pastor is motoring west to visit around Brighton, Michigan, where he trained for Louis. . . . Looks like the Florida training season is off to a head start. Phil Troy, Red Sox secretary; Gabe Paul, secretary of the Reds and Jack Malaney of the Boston Post were lined up at Frank Winchell's Tampa terrace bar Thursday. . . . If Green Bay gets into the pro football play-offs, Milwaukee may land the big game.

Today's guest star — Roy Shutt, Troy (New York) Times-Record: "It that Lombardi-for-Phelps trade goes through there should be no cash involved. . . . It would be an even swap — pound for pound."

Storm warning — There ought to be a dog fight at Champaign tomorrow. . . . Crisler of Michigan said: "Harmon is a better all around back than Red Grange." . . . Zuppke of Illinois said: "Harmon? Southern Cal has seven Harmons." . . . All right, boys, let's go!

Police — A Syracuse united press release begins: "The crying need in Syracuse's football ranks these days is for a 'pay-off' man x x x." . . . Maybe they've got something there, at that.

HIGH SCORER LAUDS BLOCHER

Clarion, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—An unpublicized blocking back was given full credit today for making William Edward Sheridan of Clarion State Teachers' college the east's leading scorer.

None other than "Baldy-Bob" Sheridan himself modestly acclaimed "Big Joe" O'Brien for clearing the way to the goal line as the curly-haired halfback counted nine touchdowns and eight extra points in five games.

Declaring the best back in the world was useless without blockers, Sheridan said "all credit that can possibly be given to my gridiron success this year goes wholeheartedly to O'Brien, in my opinion one of the most outstanding blocking fullbacks in this section of the country."

Sheridan's 62 points, more than half of his team's 105, are largely responsible for Clarion being among the east's leading undefeated and untied eleven. The Teachers are topped only by Catholic university.

Stocky, shifty and smart, the touchdown king is one of Clarion's fastest men and still has another year of football before him. He works part-time to help pay his school expenses. To fellow students he is "a great guy."

Sheridan stayed out of school two years after graduating from Punxsutawney high. He attended St. Vincent for a short time in 1936 then entered Clarion. His father, a glass company executive, and mother now live in Bethlehem, Pa.

GRADY PITT'S SWIM COACH

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3 (AP)—Ben Grady, former all-American diver and swimming star at the University of Michigan, will Coach Pitt's swimming team this coming year, the department of athletics announced today. Among other honors, Grady won the national intercollegiate three-meter board title while at Michigan. He has coached at Yonkers, New York, high school; University high school, Ann Arbor, Michigan, and Devilbiss high, Toledo, Ohio.

ALLIGATORS OUT FOR HOPKINS

Meadville, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Alligheny had the satisfaction of knocking Johns Hopkins from the list of football's unbeaten last year but hasn't won a game since. That's why the Alligators are just as anxious to repeat against the Maryland team here Saturday as the visitors are to avenge the 1938 setback.

A squad of 25 Fairfield high school girls has been drilling twice a week for the coming basketball season. Coach Elmore Slaybaugh has the following veterans remaining from last year: Regina Kane, Ethel Kepner, Maydie Slonaker, Faye Slonaker, Wilda McCann and Anna Spence. Freda Kump, Betty Rebert and Pauline McClellan are the varsity managers.

Don Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peters, Bendersville, has been showing up well as a member of the Lock Haven State Teachers' college football squad. Peters, who performed as a lineman for Biglerville high until his graduation last spring, played a great game against West Liberty teachers and is expected to see considerable action against Geneva November 11 at Beaver Falls.

The football team of Boy Scout troop 79 will take its longest jaunt Saturday when it meets the Frankford Yellowjackets of the Pop Warner conference in Philadelphia. Considerably encouraged as the result of their triumph over Quincy last week the Red Raiders expect to give the Yellowjackets plenty of opposition.

John "Buck" Stahle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stahle, York street, played his third straight game as varsity center for the undefeated Army plebes against the Lafayette freshmen Wednesday. The plebes have defeated the Bucknell frosh, 13-7, New York university freshmen, 21-0, and the Lafayette yearlings, 20-0. "Buck" entered West Point last July after having com-

Mt. St. Mary's to Meet St. Francis

Emmitsburg, Md., Nov. 3—In quest of its third victory of the season, the Mount St. Mary's fighting eleven will engage a formidable St. Francis college club from Loretto, Pa., at Echo Field on Saturday at 2:15 p.m. St. Francis has faced this season such strong opposition as St. Thomas university, of Scranton; St. Vincent's college, of Latrobe, Pa., and Notre Dame's "B" team.

The Mountaineers, recovering from a bruising battle against St. Bonaventure, will be at full strength with the exception of Frank DeBottis, regular end. DeBottis, who suffered a serious head injury during the Bonnies' clash, will not have recovered sufficiently for Saturday's game.

Several changes made in the Mount St. Mary's lineup for the St. Bonaventure game are expected to be in effect again Saturday. Among those changed is Leo Klotz, because of the excellent defensive work he turned in against the Bonnies.

TERPS MAY NOT LIKE THIS
State College, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Saturday's clash with the University of Maryland will be a rehearsal to Penn State for important games in the next three weeks. Coach Bob Higgins will use an all-veteran backfield and may call upon upper classmen to replace all sophomores in the Lion forward wall.

POUNDS FOR DOLLARS
Pittsburgh, Nov. 3 (AP)—Assistant United States Attorney Premo Columbus won a $50 bet but lost 18 pounds doing it. Two months ago a friend wagered the five-foot, two-inch attorney couldn't cut his weight from 153 to 135 pounds by the night of November 1. Daily workouts in a gymnasium brought him within a half pound of the 135 when the date arrived. Passing up breakfast and working out on a badminton court did the rest.

MAROONS MEET UNBEATEN TEAM IN WAYNESBORO

Gettysburg high school's football team faces its strongest opponent of the year Saturday afternoon when it tangles with the undefeated, untied and unscored upon Waynesboro Tornado on the latter's field. The kickoff will be at 2:30 o'clock.

Coach "Rip" Engle has developed one of his strongest teams in years that has proven itself to be the class of this section. Waynesboro was a pre-season favorite to win the Southern Pennsylvania conference title but was ruled ineligible at a recent conference meeting because the Tornado does not meet all other conference teams.

Injuries will force both Coaches Forney and Engle to revamp their lineups. An injury sustained last week may keep Harbaugh, husky Maroon center, from the lineup. Gilbert or Fortenbaugh may be shifted from their regular posts at tackle and halfback, respectively, to fill Harbaugh's position.

Many Injured
Louie Myers, whose touchdown pass gave the Maroons a tie last week, is still limping and will be unavailable for service while Hartman is a doubtful starter. Several other Maroon stars are nursing minor injuries and Coach Forney stated today the final starting lineup will not be known until game time.

Over in Waynesboro Coach Engle is also troubled with injuries. "Footsie" Brightful, sensational back, is suffering with an infected finger on his right hand while Kugler, a lineman, received a gash requiring six stitches in a fall Wednesday evening in the dressing room.

The Golden Tornado has swept over five straight opponents to compile its perfect record and will be heavy favorites over the Maroons. West and Levick, star Waynesboro backs, will bear the brunt of the ball carrying against the Maroons.

The probable Gettysburg lineup follows: Thompson and Bigham, ends; Carter and Bowling, tackles; Kinneman and Timbers, guards; Gilbert, center; Fortenbaugh, Tate, Knox and Hartman, backs.

Northern Players Play Leading Roles On South's Elevens

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3 (AP)—The war-between-the-states tradition of southern football is getting a lot of wear and tear these days under the feet of Yankee youngsters who prefer cotton belt educational facilities to their own.

What does the rebel yell mean to a boy from Rochester (New York or Minnesota)?

Also going is the No. 1 intersectional pre-game pep talk of the southern football coach—how "we was robbed" at Appomattox.

Time was when a southern team got a complete course in history of the Confederacy on each trip above the Mason-Dixon line.

By kickoff time, each player had the idea that it was up to him, personally, to avenge the "lost cause."

But now, with the Yanks moving in for the climate and a college education (if necessary the scouts will throw in a southern accent), the "lost cause" spell doesn't click.

Then too, Dixie coaches don't especially need it now. They have what the Confederacy lacked— northern resources.

Note North Carolina's victory over New York university. No scion of Stonewall Jackson "stomped" the Violets. A high stepper from the Bronx, George Stirnweiss, was the sparkplug.

And when the Carolinians swept over Pennsylvania, the two Tarheel stars, Paul Severin and Carl Suntiheimer, both Pennsylvanians, couldn't have been thinking of Pickett's charge at Gettysburg.

Even the rebels of the University of Mississippi, the state which sent Jefferson Davis to head the Confederacy, have a Yankee quarterback, Bill Schneller of Springfield, Illinois. Twenty Duke squad members sound their "R's" firmly.

George (Bad-News) Cafego, head man for the Tennessee Volunteers, the nation's No. 1 team, is from "up north." Two fellow West Virginians, James Coleman and Marshall Shires, and Ohioan, Ed Molinski, also are doing their part for Tennessee.

An Evening Thought

Blessedness is promised to the peace-maker, not to the conqueror.—Quarles.

Out of the Past

Happening of days gone by as chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times the files reveal.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Episcopal Bishop Here on Sunday: Bishop Darlington, of Washington, D. C., one of the heads of the Episcopal church in the United States, will visit the Church of the Prince of Peace, Sunday, to administer the rite of confirmation.

Delegates Returned: E. P. Miller and I. L. Taylor returned to their homes here Thursday evening, after attending sessions of the United Lutheran Church in America, at Chicago, as delegates from the West Pennsylvania Synod.

Hospital Report: A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Plattenburg, North Stratton street, at the Warner hospital, at 9 o'clock Thursday evening.

J. A. Schelling Buys Keckler Hill Tracts: Two plots of ground on Keckler's Hill, along the Biglerville road, north of Gettysburg, have been purchased by J. A. Schelling, formerly of Chicago, who has recently brought his family to Gettysburg and plans to make his home here.

A five acre plot was purchased by Mr. Schelling from George Plontz and the other tract from Mrs. Mary K. Bayly, of Washington, D. C.

Apple Treat: The St. Courageous W.C.T.U. treated residents of the county home to apples on Sunday afternoon, and also held a song service. Members of the W.C.T.U. who were present were: Mrs. J. C. Knox, Miss Elizabeth Bushman, Mrs. Charles Pfeffer, Mrs. Ella Walter, Miss Emma Howard, Mrs. Levi Bushman and Mrs. D. G. Bowman.

Huge Parade Is Held Here: Gettysburg dispensed itself in various ways on Halloween night and young and old, boys and girls, men and women helped celebrate the mysterious evening before All Saints' Day. Chief among the entertainment features was the colorful and fantastical parade in which several hundred persons joined in the merriment.

Allen B. Plank, through whose efforts the mummies' parade was staged, was marshal of the parades and revelers.

Personals: Mrs. Allen Dickson, Springs avenue, has returned from a week's stay in New York.

Z. J. Peters, daughter, Miss Eleanor H., and son, Wallace V., of Guernsey, and Mrs. R. C. Walton, of Biglerville, attended the yearly meeting of the Society of Friends in Baltimore, Maryland, Sunday.

Miss Ruth Stock has returned to her home in Philadelphia after a week's visit with her cousin, Miss Ruth Stock.

Doctor Charles H. Huber, Carlisle street, John D. Lippy, Chambersburg street; Charles H. Smith, Broadway, and guest, R. P. Moyer, of Pittsburgh, were in Gettysburg on Tuesday.

Doctor Henry W. A. Hanson, College campus, returned Monday from Chicago, where he attended the General Synod of the United Lutheran church.

MISCHIEF-BREWING

His little hands are sturdy and his little legs are stout. He's giving proof already that he soon will walk about. And there's something in his laughter and the twinkle of his eye. Which betoken roguish mischief we must suffer by and by.

I've watched him eyeing strangely every opened closet door. And I'll swear that he was thinking: "There's a place I'll soon explore!" And I'll swear that he was thinking: "Just as soon as I can crawl."

There's a dish upon the table that is going to have a fall. You can see it in his manner for it's just as plain as day. There's all sorts of glorious trouble due to come his mother's way. And as soon as he is able—and it won't be very long. He'll come bursting from his play pen though we build it twice as strong.

Now he's bouncing and he's kicking in a most convincing way. It is mischief that is brewing and he wants to start today. And I chuckle as I watch him for much sooner than we think. On her finest table cover he is going to spill the ink.

Mother and Infant
Marooned in Alaska
Rescued by Plane

Anchorage, Alaska, Nov. 3 (AP) — A young mother and her 19-day-old baby who spent three below-zero nights in an Alaska wilderness were safe at the town of McGrath today as rescuers sought to bring out by dog teams the two other victims of the forced airplane landing.

A special ski-equipped plane piloted by Nate Browne landed on the snow a half-mile from the marooned group Thursday and flew Mrs. Christian Beckman, 26, and her baby daughter to McGrath, in west-central Alaska.

The plane carrying the mother and baby, with pilot Jimmy Dodson and Ole Blendheim, another passenger, was forced down Monday by a snowstorm. Mercy pilot Kenneth Neese, directed to the scene by radio, dropped milk and other food, a sleeping bag, diapers and nipples to the party from his plane.

Neither Mrs. Beckman nor the infant suffered any ill effects from the frosty interruption of their flight home to Ophir from the Fairbanks hospital.

NO SECRET SERVICES

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP) — There won't be much mysticism about the mystic rites of Greek letter societies at the University of Tennessee unless the girls find more private quarters for holding initiations. The rooms assigned to them at the dormitory for their ceremonies, they have complained, permit no secrecy.

WELL FILLED DAYS

PEOPLE who cause trouble in this world are those who have no definite thing to do, no desire to work, and no plan of life. Discontent and discouragement grow from idleness and lack of purpose. Every possible encouragement should be given to those out of work who desire to work. Well filled days, with interest ever being stimulated, leave no room for complaint or unhappiness. There is no antidote in this world for unhappiness, sorrow, or discouragement, like work.

If you are useful to some one else you are useful to yourself. Never forget that. There is no thrill like the thrill of service.

It is amazing how much you can learn merely by filling up the odd moments of a day. An hour a day, spent in reading, from selected books that meet most one's taste, can make anyone well informed and many times as interesting a person as the one who neglects such an opportunity.

Once you get the taste of good literature, it will become difficult for you to confine yourself to but a single hour of reading a day. The book and reading habit leaves only happiness in its path. How many people have read one good history of their own country — or of the world — to date? Our judgments are formed by what we know — that is true!

Variety is what adds zest to a day. A hobby of some sort is one kind of exercise for the mind. Everyone should have an outdoor recreation of some sort. Nature has taught many a man far more than he ever learned in the classroom.

Go to your bed, tired from a well filled day, and you will sleep well — and dreams, if you have them, will be pleasant ones!

THE CREEPING MAN

By Frances Shelley Wees

YESTERDAY: Michael decides to take Murchison's assistant, McBain, into his confidence and perhaps gain information. He learns that Murchison and his wife were not happy, and that Murchison got Devoe his post.

Chapter 24

Ridiculous Question

"Miss Lissey is your anonymous letter writer," said McBain.

Michael rubbed his ear. "I don't think so," he said slowly. "I asked her, pointblank, today. She knew what I was doing here, having guessed some and ferreted out the rest."

"You asked her?"

"Yes. And no one could have been quite so guileless if she'd had guilty knowledge. No, I thing we're off the track there."

McBain shook his head heavily. "It's a damned puzzle to me, from beginning to end," he said. "And those love letters—that's a greater puzzle. I told you what I thought of such a rotten idea once before." He dropped into his chair and sat thinking, while Michael watched his expression. "Did it ever occur to you," McBain said suddenly, "that those mightn't be love letters at all?"

"What do you mean, sir?"

"Why—they were with the diamonds. Surely, if Murchison had gone with a woman he would have taken his valuables with him, of that nature. It appears that he didn't. Is it possible that the diamonds have some strange and secret history and the letters aren't what they seem to be but something else, in code, relating to the diamonds? Do I make myself clear?"

"By the Lord Harry," said Michael softly. "I wonder if you've struck something? You're suggesting . . . let me think now . . . supposing the diamonds were stolen?" He went on, disregarding McBain's hand. "Stolen. Not necessarily by your friend—but still—quite possibly by him. Supposing, as you say, these letters are code letters, from someone familiar with the circumstances. Someone who is warning him rather than, rather? Michael smiled sweetly. "We'll get a code on them tomorrow!"

"That would fit in with your letter from Chicago," McBain said abruptly.

"It would," Michael replied happily. "Murchison's afraid to give his address or any hint of his whereabouts to his wife. In that case, she may or may not have a hint of the real truth . . . and is acting accordingly. You can interpret her actions differently according to the light you see them in. But the thing that gets me, is . . . why haven't we heard about the theft or loss or misappropriation . . . whatever you like . . . of fifty thousand dollars worth of diamonds?"

"They may have come from some other city," McBain said. "I don't believe for one instant that Murchison stole them, Forrester. I think you're barking up the wrong tree there. But certainly there's something strange about them . . . and it may be he's keeping them to protect someone else . . . I don't know. I'm no jewel thief. But as for thinking of Murchison in that light . . . it would mean a sort of double identity . . . it's preposterous."

"You've got to come back to that letter warning the Commissioner, though," Michael said after a moment. "Somebody sent it. As for Alix Lissey . . . I'm convinced she thinks she knows something. I found her today out on the river bank, inspecting the rocks with a species of microscope. Can you tell me what might have been in her pretty little head?"

"Whose Hat?"

McBain laid his pipe down on the arm of his chair. "Inspecting the rocks with a microscope?"

"Something of the sort."

"Where?"

"All along the bank between the University path and the first big ravine. I don't think she found what she was after, but she was certainly searching."

McBain laughed shortly. "Personally, I shouldn't like to venture an opinion. She's a bit off, I've always thought."

"Any special reason why she might want to cause trouble for the Murchisons?"

McBain smiled suddenly. "Perhaps the fact that she once expected to marry Jared Devoe might have something to do with it," he replied.

"What?"

"It's incredible, but true. She's been a changed woman ever since. It was the summer he came . . . he taught first at summer school here. Mrs. Murchison was away at the coast. Miss Lissey was here, and she did her best to make Devoe feel at home. She took him everywhere, bought hosts of new garments and blossomed like a rose. My wife says she even went so far as to hint an engagement. Then Mrs. Murchison came home, saw the situation, and rescued Devoe from the toils. Miss Lissey has been bitter ever since. It was a very close call for Devoe."

"I can see that that might well explain her attitude."

McBain's mouth tightened. "Surely, Forrester, there is a more direct way than this of going about this business?"

"I'm afraid not. It's a case of patient untangling of knots until we find the straight thread. It looks pretty hopeless right now. By the way . . . he paused. "There's another knot I want to untie. It's a very small one. Do you happen to have a hat around here that doesn't belong to you?" Michael's smile was very engaging.

"A what?"

"A hat."

"What kind of a hat? Whose hat?"

"I don't know. Miss Lissey informed me this afternoon that there was a hat left here the night school closed that might have a bearing on this situation. It sounds ridiculous, but I ask merely to try and see what she was getting at."

McBain shook his head impatiently. "The woman's a fool," he said angrily. "There wasn't anyone here on that night. No one could have left a hat here. I was at home all evening—I'm positive."

"Still—do you mind if I ask your wife? There might be some reasonable suggestion back of Miss Lissey's words."

For answer, McBain went to the door and called, "Lucy? Where are you, my dear?"

"In the garden," a woman's voice came faintly. "I'm in the garden, John."

"We'll go on out if you like," McBain said, preceding Michael down the long passage that led to the back door.

An Owl Hoots

Mrs. McBain was sitting in a garden chair in the dusk. She sprang to her feet lightly as Michael followed her husband out. "I didn't know we had a guest," she said chidingly. "I was enjoying the evening quiet. Why didn't you call me, John?"

"We've been talking, my dear, and I didn't notice the time flying. Lucy, Mr. Forrester has rather a ridiculous question to ask you—can you tell him if there is a hat here that was left on the night school closed?"

She stared at him. "A hat?" she repeated slowly. "Whose hat?"

"I don't know," Michael said lightly. "Just any hat, that was left here that night."

"Perhaps . . . it might . . . perhaps that was the night I found a strange hat hanging in the passageway . . . I don't just remember. Is it important?"

"What kind of a hat?" McBain asked her.

"Why . . . a gray felt, I think it was."

"A man's hat?" Michael asked.

"Yes, certainly."

"Is it still around, Lucy? Do you mind getting it?"

"I think it is—certainly not," she said and turned into the doorway. They followed her. She lifted the lid of a carved chest standing just inside the door; it held several hats and caps. She snapped on the light and examined them.

"That's strange," she said. "It doesn't seem to be here any longer."

"When did you see it last, Mrs. McBain?" Michael asked quietly.

"I don't remember." She looked at him, and her brow was smooth and untroubled again. "I really didn't pay any attention to it. I remember wondering at the time who owned it, because no man had called here the day I found it."

"No man? A woman, then?"

"No one but Miss Lissey, and she only ran in for a few minutes."

"A gray felt hat, Lucy? Do you remember if it had a round brim?"

She looked at her husband. "I think it did," she said.

They left her, and McBain walked to the gate with Michael. "The last time I saw him," he said, and there was no need to tell who he meant, "he was wearing a gray felt hat with a round brim. And Heaven only knows why it was left here. Perhaps if we knew that we should know everything."

Michael took the path that wound along between the edge of the woods and the hedges at the back of the gardens, and started for home. He walked slowly, thinking over the events of the day, and the strange information he had just received; and his steps were noiseless on the pine needles which had drifted across the little-used pathway. He passed the Deanes', and was rounding the curve of this outer horseshoe when he saw movement on the path ahead. He stopped involuntarily, and watched. There was someone just outside his garden gate, someone who crept rather than walked, and kept close in the deep shadow of the hedge. As Michael peered at it, the figure melted into the hedge and could be seen no longer. He waited.

It seemed to him that he could hear heavy breathing, and other small noises, which he could not quite distinguish; but there was no longer any movement that he could see, because of the darkness.

Suddenly, out of the woods behind him, an owl hooted loudly. Michael jumped. The sound of breathing stopped.

The owl hooted again.

Organizes Club to Study Our Grouches

New York, Nov. 3 (AP) — How's your grouch today?

Did you wake up growling? Was your morning coffee too hot, too cold — too late? Does your husband always wait until the last minute to shave? Do those hats your wife buys look dippy to you?

Then you belong. Ask Willard B. Rogers, a Hartford, Connecticut, hotel man.

Rogers arrived in town today with his latest idea for alleviation of what's wrong with Mr. and Mrs. America — the Grouch Club of America.

He incorporated the club last week at Hartford, to bring out, he said, "grouches imbedded deep in the consciousness. We are surveying thousands of husbands and wives and soon will make the results of our study public."

He hopes to do the same thing for employers and employees, too.

Right now he's looking forward to a national grouch convention at Hartford, when the chief grouch and minor grouches will be elected.

What's more, he hopes to promote a "national grouch day," on which one and all may give vent — "harmlessly" — to their various goat-getters.

He said he hopes to combat what he terms a "devastating trend toward divorce," and alleviate "exasperating national grouches."

EX-GERMAN OFFICER

CALLS HITLER "BLUFFER"

Pullman, Wash., Nov. 3 (AP) — Adolf Hitler was classified as the "greatest bluffer of all time" by Gottfried R. Treviranus, who commanded a German destroyer at the World war battle of Jutland and later served in the cabinet of Chancellor Dr. Heinrich Brüning.

Treviranus told the Washington State college student body he was marked for death in the German blood purge and escaped by scaling a garden wall while secret service men fired at him.

He said each step taken by Hitler in his program of expansion had been against the will of the army, but Hitler's "shrewdness" always overcame the obstacles.

Treviranus, who lives in England, is on a lecture tour.

RUSSIAN PAPER SAYS FINLAND ASKS 'FOR WAR'

Moscow, Nov. 3 (AP)—Pravda, organ of the communist party declared today that Finland's Foreign Minister Eljas Erko had "directly threatened" the Soviet Union and that his remarks of Wednesday night "cannot be appraised otherwise than as an appeal for war with the U.S.S.R."

Pravda said Erko's position was "precisely like that of former Polish Foreign Minister Beck. It is known that he too made provocative speeches before the Polish-German war, and the result was that he provoked war with Germany."

Beck, it said, "had the support of certain powers, and because of this, Poland perished."

Britain and France were not named directly.

The article dealing with negotiations for concessions which Russia has asked of her little Baltic neighbor came on the day a Finnish delegation was expected to start its final discussions at the Kremlin.

Foreign circles had interpreted Erko's speech Wednesday night as conciliatory in tone and foresaw an early settlement of the Russian requests, but the Pravda article used the strongest language yet employed publicly in the four-week negotiations.

Citing the fact that Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania already had signed mutual assistance pacts with Russia, Pravda said:

"Attempts to deny the mutual advantages of these agreements for all their signatories are made only by their common enemies interested in fomenting war not only in western but in eastern Europe as well, particularly on the Baltic coast."

It said that "naturally, the government of the U.S.S.R. was bound to address similar proposals to the fourth Baltic country bordering on the U.S.S.R.—Finland."

"The Soviet Union not only has the right but is obliged to take measures to assure security of the sea and land approaches to Leningrad, whose population equals the entire population of Finland."

Pravda declared Russia had met Finland halfway on all important questions, mentioning that Premier-Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov Tuesday told the supreme Soviet that Russia had not insisted on a mutual assistance pact because Finland believed such a pact was incompatible with her position of absolute neutrality.

Tourist Publicity Committee to Meet

The advisory committee on tourist publicity of the Department of Commerce will analyze its $50,000 advertising campaign at a meeting to be held Thursday, November 9, at the capitol.

The members of the committee are:

Paul R. Eyerly, publisher of the Bloomsburg Press; R. LeRoy Dengler, Hawthorne Inn, Mt. Pocono; Franklin Moore, president of the Pennsylvania Hotel association and manager of the Penn-Harris hotel, Harrisburg; Henry M. Scharf, manager of the Hotel Gettysburg; Richard B. Maxwell, Harrisburg, manager of the Pennsylvania Motor federation; J. Maxwell Smith, vice-president and manager of the Keystone Automobile club, Philadelphia; and William N. Hardy, Harrisburg, manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association.

STATE WILL LAUNCH GIVE-A-JOB DRIVE

Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—A state-wide organization, extending into the political sub-divisions of every county, was drafted today to press Pennsylvania's "give-a-job" campaign.

The job mobilization committee, headed by Walter D. Fuller, Philadelphia publisher, sounded a keynote appeal Thursday to employers and the public "to choose increased employment rather than increased taxation" in an effort to curtail the state's heavy relief burden.

The committee, in an initial statement, said it would try to "create" opportunities for employment, and "to further a psychology of greater self-reliance by those on relief rolls as an incentive to individual independence."

War Talk Cuts CCC Enrollment

Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—War talk has made some Pennsylvania parents reluctant to let their sons join the C.C.C.

This reaction was found by the Department of Public Assistance during the fall enrollment period when the state's 17,000 quota was filled by 4,751 enlistments.

"Despite assurances of federal C.C.C. Director Robert Fechner as to the civilian, non-military nature of the corps, some of our local agents found parents reluctant to let their sons go for fear that voluntary enrollment in the C.C.C. might lead to some form of compulsory military service," Secretary Howard L. Russell said today.

The only military phase of the service is the use of uniforms and the discipline, the department observed. Youths are selected from families of the unemployed to six-month terms in forestry work. They return $22 of their $30 a month pay to their families.

Approximately 2,249 of the new enrollees will serve in Pennsylvania camps. The C.C.C. has slated 1,666 for conservation work in Maryland and Virginia and 836 will be sent to New Mexico, Arizona or Texas.

The enrollees in Adams county and other nearby counties follow:

Adams, seven; Cumberland, 12; Dauphin, 54; Franklin, seven; Fulton, six, and York, 33.

ALLIES READY TO BUY WAR GOODS

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—A billion dollars worth of European orders is expected by some officials to be placed with American manufacturers as soon as President Roosevelt signs the arms embargo bill.

They estimated that amount would be contracted within a few weeks, with most of the supplies going to Great Britain and France. Enactment of the bill will permit Great Britain and France to obtain some 300 warplanes which have been completed since the embargo was imposed.

Cancelled export licenses for planes and munitions probably will be reinstated. Great Britain's impounded orders aggregate $14,680,807 and those of France $58,205,739.

British and French purchases are expected to include:

Motor trucks and motorcycles, clothing, machine tools, field ranges, explosives, foodstuffs, surgical instruments, searchlights, gas masks, pontoon equipment, water purifying units, ambulances, tents, saddles, telephones and radio compasses.

TWO PEASANTS HOLD GERMAN PLANE CREW

Paris, Nov. 3 (AP)—Two peasants were acclaimed today for the bare-handed capture of the crew of a German plane.

Havas, French news agency, said the men's quick action prevented the Germans from smashing their instruments and destroying their papers when their craft was shot down by British planes Thursday over northern France.

It said the unarmed men, Eugene Vantours and Jean Elboust, rushed to the plane when it came down in a field near where they were working and held the fliers until French soldiers arrived.

Of the four occupants of the German plane, one was killed, another was wounded and two were unharmed.

ANGER MAKES TIPS OF FINGERS COLD

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Anger is not all heat, for it makes the fingers cold. Experiments in which not one exception to this cooling was found were reported today to the American Institute of Physics' symposium on temperature by Bela Mittelmann and H. G. Wolff of the Cornell Medical center. Tension, fear, anxiety and depression also lowered the temperature of the hands. The measurements were made on the skin of the finger tips.

U. S. INDUSTRY AT HIGHEST PACE IN TEN YEARS

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Federal Reserve board announced today that American industry was rolling out products at the fastest pace since 1929 and probably would continue at as rapid a gait until the end of the year at least.

At the same time, Secretary of Commerce Hopkins said wholesale trade during the first nine months of the year aggregated $15,000,000,000, an increase of $1,000,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1938.

Figures from the bureau of domestic and foreign commerce showed that half the wholesale gain was accounted for in July, August and September. September sales of wholesalers were 16½ per cent higher than in September, 1938.

"The reserve board tempered its optimism with the comment that 'unless there is considerable increase in the consumption of goods, the accumulation of inventories which is now under way is likely to reach substantial proportions.'"

This meant that, unless people and business buy and use up newly-produced goods faster than they now are doing, factories soon might reach the point of shutting down temporarily to get rid of all their present stocks.

However, moderate increase in retail sales and plant expansion, together with continued active residential construction, also were reported.

The board estimated the October rate of production at 120 per cent of the 1923-25 average, compared with a revised figure of 111 (formerly given as 110) for September, 92 for the low 1939 months of April and May, and 96 in October, 1938.

"Industrial output, employment and payrolls," the board said in its monthly bulletin, "have shown further rapid advances following the buying wave and rise in prices that began with the outbreak of war."

"In many industries the volume of orders on hand appears to be large enough to sustain activity at a high level at least to the end of the year."

"In most primary markets buying was especially active in the first half of September and has since subsided. Demand for semi-finished and finished products, however, has been maintained in large volume, although recently new orders for some products have decreased from earlier high levels."

HUNTER KILLED ON CITY STREET

(By the Associated Press)
Only two fatal gunning accidents were recorded unofficially as Pennsylvania's small game hunting season moved into its third day.

One occurred Monday, the other Thursday. A drop in accidents on the second day was marred by the accidental killing of Antonio Ali-candro, 47. He was talking with two returning hunters on a busy Pittsburgh street when one of their guns discharged and wounded him fatally.

Continued cold weather brought out additional thousands of hunters. New cases on the accident list are:

Lillian Baldauf, 11, struck in the forehead by shotgun pellets while skipping to school in Tyrone; Ralph Chapman, Duncansville, accidentally shot by a hunting companion and taken to a hospital; Mrs. Roy Kromer, 25, of Kunkletown, shot in the face and breast when she stepped into her husband's line of fire; William Supina, Phillipsburg high school student, struck near the heart by five shotgun pellets; his companion, Robert Johnston, whose lip was torn away by the same blast; Clyde Harriger, 14, Punxsutawney, shot in the left eye, and Fay Beckstein, 36, of Greenville, struck in the face and neck by a shotgun charge.

HARD WINTER AHEAD?

Phillipsburg, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Twenty-eight snowstorms will punctuate this winter's winter's gaiety if a method prognosticating in use here half a century ago is correct. A resident delving through old archives found a paper claiming the number of snows during that winter would be the same as the date of the first snowfall. The first fall this year was October 28.

Armless Mother Takes Care of Nine Children

Safford, Ariz., Nov. 3 (AP)—A six-day-old girl snuggled close to her armless mother, unaware that it was anything but normal to be juggled about for feeding and other care by a pair of feet instead of hands.

The mother, Mrs. Ruth Matthews, a transient, has eight other children. Despite dozens of offers for adoption, she expressed determination to keep the baby, born alongside a highway Saturday.

"It will not take much to feed the baby. It won't cost much," she added anxiously.

Because of the child's birth, Matthews has found a job on a nearby ranch and a house in which the family may live. Having a roof over BUTTER—Top grades, 36a35c.; 90 score, 26c.; 91 score, 28c.; 92 score, 28c.; 93 score, 27c.; 88 score, 26c.; EGGS—Receipts, 3,348 cases; steady. Extras, whites, 36a40c.; browns, 36a38c.; standards Nos. 1 and 2, 32a34c.; Nos. 3 and 4, 29a32c.; whites, 25a28c.; mediums, extras or better, whites, 25a28c.; mediums, standards, 25a26c.

CATTLE—Pronounced slowness featured trading on most steer offerings yesterday with early saleward movement consisting principally of lightweights and dryfeds that sold around steady with former days this morning. Grassers and shortfeds found demand very dull and sales and bids up until nearly noontime indicated a week to as much as 25c. lower tendency in that respect. Scanty supply of heifers cleared at unchanged rates and the relatively small number of cows on hand brought strong to a shade higher prices. Bulls went at unchanged rates. Highest price on market offerings was $9.85 paid for a three-carload sized grade of good grade 1,200-pound steers. Several sales of medium and good grades of lightweight offerings were noted at $5.50a5.75 while early sales of medium and low good grades of grassers and shortfeds were made mainly at $3.50a4.25, weights largely from around 1,000 to 1,200 pounds. Common offerings sold from $7.50 downward to below $7. Odd lots of fat heifers cleared up to $7.75, and prime light kinds sold down to $6 or below. Medium and good beef cows brought mostly from $5.50a5.75 and odd head sold up to $6.50. Common and cutter grades went at $4.50a5.25, and canners mostly from $3.75a4.25, weights largely from around 1,000 to 1,200 pounds. Slaughter bulls cashed mainly at $6.25a7, and odd head of fat butcher bulls reached $7.50. Light cutters offerings dropped down toward $5.

CALVES—Steady prices were paid in the vealer market, the good and choice grades at $11a11.50 and the common and medium grades from $8.50a10.50.

HOGS—For the fifth consecutive market day there has been no quotable change in local outlet for hogs. At current rates the good and choice grade 170-210 pound barrows and gilts are scheduled at $7.10a7.35, practical top listed at $7.35. Mediumweight butchers scaling 210-240 pounds released at $6.50a7.25, and heavier 250-300 pound weights from $6.50a7. Light lights brought mostly from $7a7.25; slaughter pigs from $6.50a7.05; packing sows, under 400 pounds.

from $5.75a6, and weightier sows mostly from $5.50a7.75. Hogs from doubtful areas and those fattened on garbage or swill and price premiums occasionally paid for through killed rail consignments purchased for restaurant are not represented in above quotations.

SHEEP—Trading in fat lambs yesterday proved more or less of a slow affair in which sales and indications up until nearly noontime pointed to a weak to shade lower market on that class. Good and choice grades of ewes and wethers were bid and sold from $9.50a9.55, fat back lambs usually cut at $1 discount. Common and medium grade wethers brought $7a7.50 and light culls from $5a5. Sheep again in relatively small numbers were sold at fully steady prices; small odd lots of fat slaughter ewes, mostly from $7a7.50, odd head to $5. Old thin sheep sold down below $2.

APPLES—Mkt very dull. Truck record, Truck, Md. Pa., Va. and W. Va. bu. bas.; U. S. 15, 2 1/2-in. min. Delicious $11.00a12, full ripe 6a6.50c.; Grimes and Smokehouse 6a6.75c., few richer; Jonathans, McIntosh and Summer Rambo 6a6.75c.; Maiden Blush and Winter Bananas 6a6.50c.; Hubbards and Yorks 6a6.75c.; Stagmans 7a7.50c., few higher, poor color smaller. Various Fair Varieties, U. S. 15, U. S. Commercial and unclass., 2 1/2-in. min. 20a40c., few 50c.

Live Poultry
Receipts moderate. Market dull. CHICKENS—Rocks, 18a19c., few higher; Crosses, 16a18c.; few higher; mixed colors, 15a18c.; ordinary lots, all kinds, 10a14c.; Leghorns, 15a16c. FOWLS—Rocks, 17a19c.; mixed colors, 15a17c.; small sizes, 12a14c.; Leghorns, 16a17c.; Roosters—Mixed colors, 10a12c.; Leghorns 7a10c. DUCKS—Young, Pekins, fat, 5 pounds and over, 13a14c.; Muscovy, whites, 14a15c.; mixed colors, 12a14c. GUINEAS—Over 2 pounds, 40a45c.; smaller, 30a35c.; each per lb. all sizes 18c. SIMPLER

Charleston, W. Va.—Eligah Sansom, 49, believes in spelling names according to your handwriting ability. Held for federal grand jury action on a charge of operating a still, he was asked by officers if his name were not spelled "Elijah." "Nope," replied Sansom. "I spell it with a 'G' because it's easier to write."

NOSE IN COURT

Salem, Mass.—John Thomas has sued Lawrence E. Lee for $2,500 because of a "red bubous nose." Thomas said he bought the nose—a putty one—from Lee so he could go to a party disguised as a "grotesque butcher." But the nose putty was poisonous. Thomas charged, and resulted in two "practically closed" eyes, a swollen real nose, pain, medical bills, lost employment and inability to fraternize with friends.

COME BACK TUESDAY

Englewood, Colo.—A youth entered Mrs. Hazel Mick's grocery, drew a gun and demanded: "Up with your hands! This is a stick-up."

"So what?" demanded Mrs. Mick, arms akimbo. "Well—" "Well, what?" "How much does it cost to call Casper? I've got a sick brother there."

"I don't know." "Thanks," responded the fleeing youth.

CROSS 'EM UP

Dallas—It's going to be harder to spot the cops hereabouts. Police Chief J. M. Welch has ordered the standard black police cars replaced with sporty models of various colors.

FIZZLE

Chicago—Sergei John Goughlin and his squad from the Fillmore street police station found a box, with a burned fuse protruding from it, lying in the street. They handled the box very gingerly, indeed, and soaked it in water for a half hour before opening it. Inside was a firecracker.

IT'S A GIRL!

Milwaukee—Circuit Judge Walter Schinz stopped a trial to address a juror.

"Mr. Richard Bialzik, stand up." The surprised juror arose. The judge continued: "I wish to inform you your wife just presented you with a daughter. Congratulations."

At the suggestion of an attorney, court was adjourned "so papa can visit his youngster."
